HOESCH design honoured at the German Design Award 2016:

"Special Mention" for NAMUR oval bathtub

At HOESCH there's plenty to celebrate: the NAMUR free-standing bathtub has been awarded a "Special Mention" in the Bath and Wellness category of the German Design Award 2016. By bestowing this award, the international jury of experts acknowledges designs that boast particularly effective features or solutions.

Oval and elegant – NAMUR has been specially designed as an eye-catching centrepiece for the bathroom. Its exclusive and extremely modern shape with narrow edges means it lends itself to forming a free-standing focal point in the room or in front of a window. Its spine-caressing curves promise the user pure relaxation in its warm, safe surroundings; almost like a cradle.

Not only does the design the NAMUR bathtub consider every last detail, the developers at HOESCH have also used the highest quality material. The high-grade Solique is a type of mineral casting offering maximum resistance to wear and tear. The surface is smooth and glossy. Solique also keeps the water warm for longer due to its insulating properties.

NAMUR is available in four sizes: 1700 x 750 mm, 1800 x 800 mm, 1800 x 900 mm and 1900 x 900 mm. HOESCH also offers a comfortable, skin-friendly backrest as an optional accessory.

The German Design Award is the international premium prize of the German Design Council and one of the most internationally recognised design competitions. Every year it honours unique design trends.

The prize will be awarded on 12th February 2016 in Frankfurt. You can view NAMUR and the other winners in the German Design Award 2016 Gallery.
