The NAMUR washbasin

The new, elegant Solique bathroom solution

HOESCH endeavours to manufacture every single product to the highest quality and design criteria. It also takes special care to ensure that the individual premium pieces come together in perfect harmony in the bathroom. And so, the choice to add the NAMUR washbasin to its range was clear for the prestigious bathroom manufacturer: the washbasin coordinates with the exclusive, German Design Award-winning NAMUR designer bath.

Like the freestanding bath and the MUNA shower tray collection from HOESCH, the NAMUR washbasin is made from Solique, an innovative and extremely hard mineral casting. It offers a unique combination of durability, easy maintenance and a sophisticated look. And you notice straight away that sleek and elegant design is in the very nature of NAMUR and its product family.

A striking, elegant oval, the NAMUR washbasin also has a smooth, shiny surface. It echoes the exclusive shape of the NAMUR bath with its unusually narrow edges, interpreting it stylishly to create a design highlight in the bathroom.

The NAMUR washbasin can be easily installed on any base and is available in various sizes: 500 x 300 x 120mm, 600 x 350 x 120mm and 700 x 400 x 120mm.

HOESCH are right on trend with their Solique range, and can provide the best individual solutions for even the most exacting customer demands – from small bathrooms to large wellness oases.
